BOSTON, March 8, 1849.

Mr. E. BRINLEY & Co.

Gentlemen:—Hoping that I may be of the wonderful efficacy of Corbett's Sarsaparilla, as a little anecdote of mine, which occurred at the age of about three years, in consequence of the skin rose all over my body, in the most [illegible] manner, so that I was [illegible] more than twelve months, during which time I was [illegible] to walk, or lie down in bed, and to adjust her night [illegible] the openings at the knees and [illegible] her from scaring herself. DR. CORBETT'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA.

The Persons to this invaluable Preparation have been laid before many of the Medical Societies in New England, and have received in every case their entire approbation. It has been acknowledged to be the most powerful [illegible] yet known! For a single cleansing the Blood, Eradicating Scrofula, Tetter and underlying the most broken constitutions, Diseases Incident to Females, Rheumatism, Pains and Weakness in the Back, Dyspepsia, &c., &c., it is unrivalled.

The celebrated Surgeon and Physician, Dr. Valentine Mott, President of the New York Academy of Medicine, has given his approbation to the accurate Preparation of Dr. Corbett's, and permits us to refer to him as a reliable witness.

This is positively not a secret, but in Boston, of our distinguished Physicians have also expressed their approval of this, as a highly efficacious remedy. Such as Dr. J. C. Warren, Dr. W. Warren, Dr. Geo. Hayward, Dr. John Jeffries, Dr. J. V. C. Smith, and others, many of whom have given their names in writing to friends of this medicine, per etc.

Alexander B. Mott, Esqr., Druggist of New York, son of the distinguished Dr. Valentine Mott, writes us under date Nov. 1848:—

"The Physicians of this city who have made use of Corbett's Syrup of Sarsaparilla, express themselves pleased with its effects, and are constantly ordering it."

THE CUBAN FOLLY.—The accounts from Washington, respecting the [illegible] and returns of the Cuban expedition [illegible] very confused yet bring a full ver[illegible] of the views we have so often ex[illegible] and again repeated Saturday. The [illegible] and Enquirer publishes a commu[illegible] dated at Savannah on the morning [illegible] May 25, which mentions the arrival at [illegible] port of the steamship Isabel, from Ha[illegible] and Key West, having left Havana on [illegible] two days later than the Ohio. [illegible] Isabel brought the intelligence that [illegible] had been thrown into confu[illegible] The Creole, with the party who had [illegible] at Cardenas, had returned to Key [illegible], narrowly escaping capture by the [illegible] steamer Pizarro. General Lopez [illegible] on board and reached Savannah on Sa[illegible] morning. The Courier's correspond[illegible] gives the following information as [illegible] him. He was accompanied by [illegible] aids, Major Sanchez Estanga.

The expedition left the Island del Contoy, [illegible] North-East corner of the Yucatan [illegible], on the 16th, and landed at Cardenas [illegible] the 19th inst. They lost some time in [illegible] long, which gave the authorities time to [illegible] an express to Cabezo, about ten miles [illegible]. The expedition entered the town [illegible] attacked the jail, supposing it to be the [illegible] The jail guard, composed of [illegible] men, stood fire like old soldiers.—[illegible] troops were seen at this moment crossing [illegible] plaza. They were hailed and answer[illegible] by firing upon the troops. After this [illegible] soldiers went to the Government [illegible] which was attacked. The house [illegible] well defended but was finally burned. [illegible] few troops surrendered themselves.

The town of Cardenas remained in peace[illegible] possession of the invaders. The [illegible] troops, however, being dissatisfied with [illegible] warm reception, and having lost time [illegible] getting the wounded and fuel on board [illegible] steamer Creole, which was to return for reinforcements became disheartened and in[illegible] upon going to Key West.

[illegible] the reader into the real quality of [illegible] expedition. It is worthy of remark [illegible] that the Creole steamer is the only ves[illegible] of which we have any authentic account [illegible] having left the United States for Cuba [illegible] are any number of vague stories a[illegible] "a barque and a brig," "other ves[illegible]" and other specimens of patriots hover[illegible] around the island," but the Creole is [illegible] only vessel that has been named. Yet [illegible] mystery has been made of her name, [illegible] no good reason why the others [illegible] be others, if there are any should not be [illegible].

The following is an extract, by telegraph [illegible] Charleston, of a letter dated Cardenas, [illegible] 20.

"Gen. Lopez, accompanied by about 500 [illegible] landed at this place, from the steamer [illegible] between 2 and 3 o'clock, on the [illegible] of the 19th of May, (Sunday). [illegible] a short struggle with the few troops [illegible] here, they took possession of the [illegible] and took the house of the [illegible] and met a good resistance. They [illegible] to his house. He was consequent[illegible] a real either to give up or to be burned [illegible] death. The invaders kept possession of [illegible] until yesterday, when they left [illegible] o'clock, carrying with them our [illegible], one or two officers, besides the [illegible] they had stolen from the public [illegible]. They had a second action with [illegible] troops before leaving and several were [illegible] on both sides. This unfortunate occurrence has caused a momentary check in [illegible].

"We have not received any letters for past two days, because as soon as the [illegible] had arrived they took possession [illegible] and engines, and it is [illegible] up the country to tear up the [illegible]. The savages did not molest the m[illegible], although nearly every one took [illegible] on board the shipping in the harbor. [illegible] that by tomorrow evening tranquillity will be restored and the business of town go on as usual.

"We open our letter to advise you of the arrival of our Governor, with the two [illegible] captured by Lopez. New Pazos they fell in with a fishing smack, and [illegible] is said that Lopez agreed to put them on shore on condition that the Governor would [illegible] his influence to save the lives of those [illegible] Lopez's gang are now [illegible] the stocks."

On the arrival of the Creole at Key West, the collector of the port sent an officer on board and seized her for violating the laws of the United States. The man [illegible] board are still there, and will probably be secured by a [illegible]. It is reported [illegible] the Pizarro secured a barque and brig, [illegible] found on board letters and papers exposing the plan of the "expedition." It also [illegible] that fifty of the Spanish [illegible] and forty of the inhabitants were killed at Cardenas.

On Saturday night General Lopez and [illegible] were arrested at Savannah by the United States marshal, says the Courier's correspondent, and carried before Judge Nichols of the District Court. Much ex[illegible] prevailed and the Court Room was crowded. They were discharged, it is said for lack of evidence against them. A large crowd conducted him to his lodgings at the City Hotel, where he made a speech and declared his resolution to persist in his enterprize. He left Savannah yesterday morning for Mobile.

And this, for the present at least, is the end of this piece of consummate wickedness and folly. General Lopez and his five hundred banditi creep into a small port, land at a small village, attack the jail mistaking it for the barracks, plunder the public treasury, murder some of the inhabitants, and then run away to save their lives. Who could have supposed, after the loud boasting and high flown language of certain papers, that the "expedition to revolutionize Cuba" was in its purpose so dishonorable, in force and valor so contemptible, and would be in its results so inglorious! Surely the public will at length learn the value of such inflated announcements.

We share, in common with others of our contemporaries, the feeling of surprise that General Lopez was discharged by the District Court at Savannah. We shall probably hear more about that, however hereafter.—We cannot doubt that the Government of the United States will vindicate its honor in this matter. Neither is it improbable that the men, numbering 600, who found the reception "too warm" which sixty men, and they, taken by surprise and in the dead of the night, gave them, have left behind some of their comrades to feel the vengeance of an outraged government. We opine, too, that we shall henceforth hear little about the universal sympathy of the Cubans with the invaders, and their "readiness almost to a man" to unite with them" in taking forcible possession of the island.—Com. Adv.

☞The editor of La Verdad, a Spanish paper in New York, has been arrested and held to bail, charged with violating the acts of Congress in aiding and abetting in fitting out an expedition against Cuba. The subject has also been brought before the Grand Jury, in the U. S. District Court, and Judge Betts gave a charge in regard to the matter.

☞William M. Eddy, formerly agent of the Portsmouth Coal Mines, has been elected Steward of the Seamen's Hospital at San Francisco.

☞We notice by our exchanges [illegible] arrangements are being made all over the country to celebrate the approaching Fourth of July in the good old-fashioned style. Let us do the same thing here, and have a Poem from Park Benjamin, Esq.

EDITOR OF THE NEWS:—

I have this moment had the accompanying letter from the pen of Gen. [illegible] President of the American Institute, handed to me for my perusal. It relates, as you will perceive, to the proposed "new version of the Holy Scriptures," which I am happy to know was rejected last week, in New York, with great unanimity by the American and Foreign Bible Society. Such testimony in favor of our present version is highly satisfactory, and may be of service in sustaining the late noble decision of that Society. J.

Newport, May 27, 1850.

New York, May 25, 1850.

MY DEAR S——,

I am very much pleased with the letter of the Rev. William Williams, on the great question of a new translation of the Bible. It is a learned exposition, and a strong and able argument on that important question. The Baptist denomination give up too much when they demand the new insertion of the word immerse in the place of the long-established word Baptism. The experience of ages past has adopted the word Baptism; and under which each Christian sect enjoys its own peculiar and long-established usages. Its change will tend to require the belief of the christian world—encourage skepticism, and arouse sectarianism, which is too often mistaken, even by some Professors, for zeal in Religion. The Christian world will mourn, while the infidel only will have cause to rejoice in the divisions and controversies which the inexpedient measure of alteration of the text in a new translation by a portion of one sect, must at this day produce.

Great credit is due to Mr. Williams for boldly standing up against an innovation pregnant with so many evils.

Affectionately yours,

JAMES FALLMADGE.

Stockton, California, April 7th, 1850.

MR. EDITOR:—

This is Sunday, as you will perceive by reference to the date, that is, if we are rightly "posted up" in regard to time here in California, but it seems like any other day but the Sabbath. This day brings with it no cessation of business, but on the contrary, everything goes on as though we were not commanded to "remember and keep it holy." Perhaps I should make an exception of the mechanics, as a general thing, but then they might as well be at work, as spending their weeks earnings in gambling, drinking, rolling ten pins, and playing billiards; to say nothing of dog-fighting, and not unfrequent fights between those who call themselves men; I have heard of, and seen no less than half a dozen of the last mentioned fights to-day, and, as a matter of course, one or the other of the belligerent parties got a black eye and a bloody nose, and perhaps a stab at two with a knife, for in these rows knives and pistols are often called into requisition. This is a great country, and as democratic as it well could be; in fact it is a little too much so, for the safety of the community, for there are those here who insist on doing as they "d——please," and in about nine cases out of ten they succeed. A few evenings since two or three Americans entered the tent of a Mexican who resided in the suburbs of the town with his family. They insisted on entering the apartments occupied by the females, but on meeting with opposition, they deliberately shot the Mexican through the head, killing him dead on the spot, and then left him, probably to attempt their niggardly game in some other quarter. Those men are still at large, and not the least attempt has been made to arrest them, nor anything done about it, except that a coroner's inquest was held on the body of the man shot, for the purpose, I suppose, of ascertaining whether or no he was really dead. The people here say "Oh, he was only a greaser, (a term of reproach applied to the Mexicans,) and it is of no consequence." Some time since there was a District Court holden here, presided over by Judge Reynolds, but the people established that, some five or six weeks since, by politely informing Judge Reynolds to leave town, and that, too, very sociably, which he did "in between two days." I know nothing of the Judge's qualifications to fill the office which he did; but he certainly did not preside with any very great degree of dignity, to say the least. In one end of the court room was a bar, not of justice, although extensively practiced at by the court; and it was [illegible] of frequent occurrence for Judge Reynolds [illegible] to adjourn the court for ten or fifteen minutes, in the midst of a case, step up to the bar [illegible] and take a glass [illegible] and spend the remainder of the intermission in betting at monte. At one of the last courts holden by the Judge, a man was on trial charged with arson, the penalty of which was death. While the jury were out, the Judge proposed to the lawyers engaged in the case that they bet whiskey pouches for the whole Court on the result of the verdict which the jury would render,—whether the man be hung, or go free. The prisoner, to save his Honor any uneasiness, volunteered to treat the Court himself. He was acquitted.—These are facts, and it is a fair sample of the manner in which law and justice is administered in California on this side of San Francisco, at all events, and how it is there we cannot say. An election was holden here on Monday last, and a new Judge elected, but he has not yet assumed the duties of his office. This election was ordered by the Governor—the other Judge was appointed by Gen. Riley.

April 10th.—Since writing the foregoing I have been very busy, and I should not be writing now, except that the mail which leaves San Francisco on the 15th closes here to-night.

The rainy season is now about, if not quite, over, and people begin to flock to the mines, although the waters are too high for them to do much at present, on the large streams, and they will remain up till about the first of July. I do not think that the average of the mines per day, at present, is over five dollars—certainly not over eight. At the Stanislaus and Tuwalumne mines, (the section of country with which I am most familiar,) Flour sells at $25 a $30 per 100 lbs, pork $35 a $40 per 100, and other articles of provision in proportion. Lumber, which sold here last summer at $800 a $1000 per thousand, can now be bought for $125 per thousand. Every day diminishes the chances of making a fortune in a short time, either by speculation, trading, or digging; and some of us, I am fearful, will have to stay in California a long time in order to get rich.

I have never been able to get my eye on one of the Newport boys, who came out in the Audley Clarke, since they arrived here, though I occasionally hear from them. The most of them are, at present, in and about San Francisco, working at their trades, but I am informed that they soon intend leaving for the mines.

I received, on Saturday last, for the first time since I left the States three copies of the Herald of the Times, and their perusal afforded me quite a treat. Are those the only papers you have sent me during the past fourteen months?

At a meeting of the merchants of San Francisco, a few days since, they agreed to take gold dust, in trade at $17 per ounce, and refused to take any of the coin put out by companies here. In this city real estate has depreciated in value, within a few weeks, from 15 to 25 per cent, and rents have gone down in the same proportion. Two or three heavy failures have already taken place here, and others must follow. Several cargoes of lumber have been offered here, to any man who would take it from the vessel and pay the freights.

Any communications for me, please direct to Stockton, and I shall get them much sooner than if sent to San Francisco. My friends will please bear this in mind.

I have no time to write more.

Respectfully yours,

JACKSON.

The Herald of the Times has been regularly mailed to our friend Jackson, every week, since he left the States.—ED. NEWS.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Monday May 27.

SENATE.—Mr. Turney reported back the patent bill, with an amendment.

Mr. Downs offered a resolution respecting the contract for mail steamers between New Orleans and Chagres, which was modified by himself and adopted.

The consideration of the mint bill was then resumed.

Mr. Davis renewed his proposition for the establishment of two assaying offices in California and advocated it briefly.

Mr. Underwood followed in some pertinent remarks in favor of the establishment of a mint in San Francisco.

HOUSE.—After the reading of the journal, &c., the report on Doorkeeper Horner's case was taken up and briefly discussed.

Mr. Brown of Mississippi offered a resolution in favor of discharging Mr. Horner.

Mr. Inge moved to lay the whole subject on the table.

And the house is now engaged in taking the yeas and nays upon the subject.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 27th.

At an informal Cabinet meeting last night, a prolonged discussion occurred about the Cuban affair.

Orders were dispatched to arrest all persons connected with the late invasion as soon as they land upon any part of the United States.

The Republic defends the course of the President against Mr. Clay's attack in an article occupying four columns. And respecting the territories says that an early admission into the Union as states, non-intervention by Congress as respects slavery, and the non-action by the same body in regard to the establishment of territorial governments, constitute the policy recommended by the President.

7 days later from Europe.

HALIFAX, Monday, May 27.

The steamship Asia, from Liverpool May 18, arrived this morning. The Cambria, from New York 8th inst., had not arrived.

ENGLAND.

Matters here in relation to our foreign policy are every day assuming a more serious aspect. The Greek affair is settled, but not in a way that is likely to lead to peace! The French and Russian governments appear to be greatly dissatisfied at the turn which affairs have taken. This has given rise to a variety of speculation, but as far as the facts can be made out, they appear to be these: Pending Baron Gros's negotiations, a treaty was agreed to in London, signed by the Russian, French and English Ministers, and was sent over to Athens for adoption by the Greek government, in case the negotiations were not over, but before the treaty reached Athens, Baron Gros had backed out, and Mr. Wyse had got from the Greek Minister all he wanted, and in consequence he presented the treaty by a finesse in his own way. No persons in England were aware of this state of affairs until the absence of the French and Russian Ministers at the grand plenipotentiary banquet, given as usual on the Queen's birthday, gave rise to some inquiry relative thereto.

FRANCE.

The excitement with respect to the new electoral law is spreading in France, and petitions against the measure are pouring in from all parts of the country. Several alterations have been made in the bill.—The authors of the Constitution are decidedly of opinion that any attempt to limit the franchise, except by a constituent assembly, properly convened, is illegal.

Three of the leading Democratic journals have been suspended, and several officers of the National Guard have been punished for signing a petition against the new electoral law. A though 15,000 troops have been congregated in Paris and its environs, apprehensions of an insurrection have revived within the last few days.

AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY.

We learn from Vienna, that the Church question will be one of life and death, so exasperated are the minds of men upon the subject. The Lloyd's is that the general interests of all, whatever creed they may be, now call for separation of all churches from state—for that liberty now granted to the Church of Rome, necessarily involved the removal of all restrictions from the other communications.

MARRIED.

WASHING, BLEACHING AND CLEANSING FLUID.

THE greatest labor-saving article yet discovered. By its use, washing machines and boilers are dispensed with, and not one quarter of the labor is required to do the washing of a family.

The Fluid is a chemical compound of sufficient strength to extract all foreign substances from the cloth, by simply boiling a small quantity of it with the clothes, and without the slightest injury to the most delicate fabric.

The expense is not more than that of the soap ordinarily used, and besides this it will be found that the great wear and tear of clothing consequent upon the old method of hard rubbing upon a board, and the use of the pounding barrel, is totally avoided, nearness being is thus made. It is emphatically the female's friend.

Warranted to give perfect satisfaction, or the money will be refunded.

THE REMARKABLE MEDICINAL POWERS OF

DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S

COMPOUND EXTRACT OF

SARSAPARILLA,

Have induced unprincipled persons to counterfeit it, and make fraudulent use of Dr. Townsend's NAME to secure the sale of spurious articles.

Wholesale Druggists and Imitators only serve themselves of the ORIGINAL; and no further regard need be paid to Dr. S. P. Townsend's Extract of Sarsaparilla than the laudable efforts that have been made by many to get up SOMETHING LIKE IT. As to the HONEST ATTEMPTS that have been made to use Dr. Townsend's NAME as to create confusion in the public mind in reference to the GENUINE ARTICLE, we publish below
